

Acknowledgment and Message

Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for singing together, listening together, and sharing this Christmas moment with us tonight.

The voices of the hymns echoing through the Sun Church have created a moment where the singers, the listeners, the church, the courtyard, and even the wintry air flowing through this town become one with Hotel Sunvalley Nasu and the streets of Nasu.

We feel that what makes this night so special is the tangible sense of closeness—where those who visit, those who welcome, and those who live here become a single voice, quietly dissolving boundaries to share the same time and the same feelings.

Together with the local community, the residents of Nasu and Hotel Sunvalley Nasu are gradually nurturing a season that makes people think, "I want to come back" or "I want to spend time here again," through music, light, and human connection.

It would bring us no greater joy if tonight's singing remains gently in your hearts as a travel memory or as a reason to fall in love with this town.

Once again, we are deeply grateful to you for helping us create this night together. We look forward to the day we can sing with you again in this place and in this town.
